

Everest

AKA

There's no Everest
No mountain too high for me to operate
Blessings come down on me, give me confidence
Pick up all my pieces, make me whole again (Yeah-yeah, yeah, eh)

This life a game of chess
Cash is king but blood is thicker
Thicker than water
Keep enemies closer
Learn to live with regrets
What's done is done, now you must gather strength
Thicker than water

I know it won't be for long
Until you dance a new song

Top boys in the building, uh
Rockstar, dark sunglasses so you can't see through my spirit
Everyone talk but I talk from experience, yah
I have my whole life reset
'Cause you don't really know life 'til you know death Everything you purchase you cannot flex when your body just flesh and you climbin' up steps
I'm tryna pick up all the pieces
I wake up but I still can't believe it
Get down on my knees and ask the Lord to tell me what's the reason
I can barely make it out of bed when it's the weekend?
Where the fuck is Mona Lisa?
I feel like my heart is in the freezer
I be mad at Jesus
Got me questioning if I believe him
This shit cut me deep like a procedure

There's no Everest
No mountain too high for me to operate
Blessings come down on me, give me confidence
Pick up all my pieces, wave me whole again (Yeah-yeah, yeah, eh)

This life a game of chess
Cash is king but blood is thicker
Thicker than water
Keep enemies closer
Learn to live with regrets
What's done is done, now you must gather strength
Thicker than water

I know it won't be for long
