

Hello 'Tucky

Al Jolson

Like all Kentucky boys longing for the city joys
I left the farm and started to roam
Like all Kentucky boy get sick of all the city noise
I heard Kentucky calling me home
Any thrill you get when you are leaving
Seven times the thrill when you return

You're saying Hello, 'Tucky, 'Tucky, hello
Hello 'Tucky, why did I go?
What I've been through to get to you
Now I have found you
Let me put my arms around you
Shady bowers, valleys and hills
Pretty flowers, nothing but thrills
I'm glad I went astraying
To get that kick of saying
Hello, 'Tucky, hello

Hello, 'Tucky, 'Tucky, hello
Hello 'Tucky, why did I go?

What I've been through to get to you
Now I have found you
Let me put my arms around you
Shady bowers, valleys and hills
Pretty flowers, nothing but thrills
I'm glad I went astraying
To get that kick of saying
Hello, 'Tucky, hello

Hello, hello, hello, hello, hello 'Tucky, 'Tucky, hello
Hello 'Tucky, why did I go?
What I've been through to get to you
Now I have found you
Let me put my arms around you
Shady, shady bowers, valleys and hills
Pretty flowers, nothing but thrills
I'm glad I went astraying
To get that kick of saying
Hello, 'Tucky, hello
