

Hold On

Alain Clark

Hold on, everything will be alright
Hold on, love is on the other side

And when she's down and blue
You don't understand her, no
You got to see it through
And try to be tender

Hold her hand, yeah
And just show her that you're her man

Hold on, everything will be alright
Hold on, love is on the other side
Oh, yeah

Whenever she needs somebody
To blow off steam to, yeah,
You just take her your world and try to live what she's been through

Take your time (take your time)
And you will find what you want
It's just a little ... someone that can ease your mind

Hold on, everything will be alright (everything will be alright)
Hold on, love is on the other side
Hey!

(Everything will be alright)

When she smiles,
she can light a thousand days
So give her all your glory
.. to find a story

One day she's gonna ... it all back to you

Hold on, everything will be alright
(everything will be alright)
Hold on, love is on the other side
Hey!

Show her that you love her forever
Show her that you need her forever
Show her that you need her forever
Show her that you need her forever
Show her that you need her forever

Everything will be alright
Everything will be alright
