

Just A Boy

Alaina Castillo

I know you said that you would never hurt me
But it's not your fault
I still think the worst anyway, yeah

Let's be clear, I know that I can trust you
When you under me
But tell me honestly

If you are alone with some hoe who I don't know
And she gets too close for comfort
Says she good at secrets
Would you say no
Or let your body take control?

'Cause you're just a boy
You've got a switch in your head
I've seen how quick you forget yourself
I know it all too well
'Cause you're just a boy
You go from careful to wild
And what if I'm not by your side
When she fucks with your honesty?
'Cause you're just a boy

You can tell me all this shit is in my mind
That I'm just a spiteful psycho, walking tightropes
Tryna get you outta line
But no, I'm not

When I'm alone and all I got is time
Too much time
And you don't pick up, my head starts to make shit up

Like you are alone with some hoe who I don't know
And she gets into your phone
You give into your weakness so easily
Would you even think about me?

'Cause you're just a boy
You've got a switch in your head
I've seen how quick you forget yourself
I know it all too well
'Cause you're just a boy
You go from careful to wild
And what if I'm not by your side
When she fucks with your honesty?
'Cause you're just a boy
You're just a boy, hey, mmm
You're just a boy, ah hey, yeah
You're just a
