

Ocean Waves

Alaina Castillo

I've been so gone, thinking for so long
That I would find my peace of mind, yeah, aye
Drifting thoughts and the swelling moments
That make my madness multiply

I watch the water move
So violent and so smooth
Somehow it treats them both the same
I'm in a manic mood
I see myself in you
I hear your silence call my name
(Name) Ah
(Name) Name
I hear your silence call my name

Let that wave crash over my head and pull me deeper
Let the water fill my lungs, make me stay forever young
Let the ocean break all my bones and pull me under
If the worst is yet to come, let me be forever young

My neurosis is near psychosis
It makes me feel like I'm alright
But when I focus in underneath my skin
All I crave is cyanide

I watch the water move
So violent and so smooth
Somehow it treats them both the same
I'm in a manic mood
I see myself in you
I hear your silence call my name

Let that wave crash over my head and pull me deeper
Let the water fill my lungs, make me stay forever young
Let the ocean break all my bones and pull me under
If the worst is yet to come, let me be forever young

Ooh, I feel it taking over me
Ooh, washing my sins out as she bleeds
Ooh, come flood my airways help me breathe
Ooh, I'm done with waiting to be free
I'm done with waiting to be free

Let that wave crash over my head and pull me deeper
Let the water fill my lungs, make me stay forever young
Let the ocean break all my bones and pull me under
If the worst is yet to come, let me be forever young

Let me be forever young
Let me be forever young
Let me be forever young