

Different When You're 17

Alana Springsteen

Oh, oh, oh

Take me to the water tower
Run that red light flashing
Can we turn the stars up louder?
Kiss me, breathless, faster
'Cause tonight is magic
Our lips like magnets
Can't stop thinking 'bout you
Think I'm in love, I think I'm in love
It's different when you're seventeen

You're staying up talking when you know you should sleep
You mean what you say, but you don't know what it means
'Cause ooh
It's different when you're seventeen
What you think about when you're on the edge of his kiss
The way that you're not really scared of heartbreak yet
'Cause ooh
It's different when you're seventeen
Oh, oh, oh

Baby, don't drive me back, no
Until that red sun's rising
Shining on the railroad tracks and
Sneak me home real quiet
Pull in the driveway, kiss on the porch
Saying goodnight and it's 5 in the morning
Make my way upstairs, stare at the ceiling
Smiling and dreaming, this feeling is real, I swear
It's different when you're seventeen

You're staying up talking when you know you should sleep
You mean what you say, but you don't know what it means
'Cause ooh
It's different when you're seventeen
What you think about when you're on the edge of his kiss
The way that you're not really scared of heartbreak yet
'Cause ooh
It's different when you're seventeen, oh

Oh

Tonight is magic
Our lips like magnets
Can't stop thinking 'bout you
Think I'm in love, I think I'm in love
It's different when you're seventeen, oh
It's different when you're seventeen, yeah, yeah

You're staying up talking when you know you should sleep
You mean what you say, but you don't know what it means
'Cause ooh
It's different when you're seventeen
What you think about when you're on the edge of his kiss
The way that you're not really scared of heartbreak yet
'Cause ooh

It's different when you're seventeen

Oh woah, when you're seventeen

Oh, oh, when you're seventeen

Oh, oh, oh
