

Phoenix

ALAZKA

You're reaching out to me again
I'll turn my back and
Try to ignore the words
Your helping hand
When I'm not listening

I will never find a way to break
The mask you wear
If you still hesitate
Still your waiting for the rain
When have you become
A mirror of someone

Strike a match
See if you make it through the fire
Let it burn
Let it take you higher

You won't get out unhurt
And it's down to you to
Make the tables turn
The tables turn

Deep inside I know you're right
The truth in your words
Still I can't bring myself
To take a leap
Of faith on purpose

There will always be a way to break
The mask you wear
But you still hesitate
Be the one to fly above the masses
Be the phoenix rising from the ashes

As I heard
Your silence
Turned my head
Seeing you crawling
Crawling

You made me feel life
Pulled the darkness aside
You've been building up a feeling
Falling far behind

Your words
They made me feel life
Pulled the darkness aside
You've been building up a feeling
Falling so far behind
