

The Cure

ALAZKA

I was long gone
Vision fading away
But against the odds
I found the best in me

There's a place
Cold and dark
In the back of my head
With a voice
Telling me
That I'm better off dead

I was lost
In the dark
But I'm leaving it all behind
For the last time
I'll feel like I'm

Losing my focus
Every time I'm on my knees
Heavy hearts sing of defeat
Leaving me hopeless
Say it's not the times I failed
But the moments I prevailed

When I opened my eyes
Realized
That I could pay the price
All I lost in the war
Before
A life worth dying, life worth dying for

Fill my lungs
Feel the air
There's a fire inside
Let it breathe
Finally free
There is nothing to hide

Never surrender
Every second that I need
I'll get back up on my feet
More than pretenders
Everything that I erased
But the image of your face

When I opened my eyes
Realized
That I could pay the price
All I lost in the war
A life worth dying, life worth dying for
