

The Light At The End Of The Line

Albert Hammond

Once it was sundown
Strange eyes and stranger towns
And wishing my life was done
I learned the hard way
Until I heard you say
Don't burn your eyes on the sun

You're the taste of the night in the wine
You're the light at the end of the line

You showed me sunshine
Inside this soul of mine
Where no one found it before
You took out heartache
You shook my soul awake
Now I don't cry anymore

You're the taste of the night in the wine
You're the light at the end of the line

I was dying out there in the cold
When you gave me your warm love to hold
And it's time that your story was told

I live for you now
I made it through somehow
To shelter safe from the wind
I'll give what I give
As long as I do live
I love your world without end

You're the taste of the night in the wine
You're the light at the end of the line
