

why do you fight

aldn

You see it going right
So you make it wrong, why do you always wanna fight?
Is it something wrong with me or am I in my head?
You come to me
With bloodshot eyes
Tell me, why do you cry?

It's been a long and lonely night
In a crowded room, why do I always think of you
On the Bowery roof? I take a bump and I take flight
But still, my hand's shaking under the light
I'm ill, it's been a long and lonely night

So
I could've said a lot more than I said
I could've did a lot more than I did
But I would hate for you to be upset
That said

It's been a long and lonely night
In a crowded room, why do I always think of you
On the Bowery roof? I take a bump and I take flight
But still, my hand's shaking under the light
I'm ill, it's been a long and lonely night
In a crowded room, why do I always think of you
On the Bowery roof? I take a bump and I take flight
But still, my hand's shaking under the light
I'm ill, it's been a long and lonely night

It's been a long and lonely night
