

Animal

Alec Benjamin

And the wheels go 'round and around
And the headlights shining fade in and fade out
And the cigarette burns, burns, burns
And the cigarette burns, burns, burns
I don't care, 'cause I'm wasted
I don't care, 'cause I'm wasted

And the road goes up in smoke
So I paint a picture in my head
Of where I'm supposed to go
I don't care, 'cause I'm wasted
I don't care, 'cause I'm wasted

And the wheels go 'round and around

And I am an animal, I am an animal
'Cause you can't control my brain
And that makes it impossible
And I am an animal

And the voices take their toll
And so you're waiting (So you're waiting)
And hopin' that they'd let you go
You don't care, 'cause you're floating
You don't care, 'cause you're floating

And the wheels go 'round and around

And I am an animal, I am an animal
'Cause you can't control my brain
And that makes it impossible
And I am an animal

So we'll get drunk and we'll make love
And we'll break up and we'll make up
And we'll wake up over again

And the wheels go 'round and around

And I am an animal, I am an animal
'Cause you can't control my brain
And that makes it impossible
And I am an animal
