

O.I.N.V.

Alec Benjamin

I wish I could spin, turn back the clock, begin again
And I wish I were him, holding your hand, kissing your lips

I... don't want to know what I know
I... I want you more than you know

I envy the sun, you catch the rays
Envy the love that you embrace
Envy the one I can't replace, oh I envy
Envy the hands touching your face
Envy the arms around your waist
Envy the man taking my place, oh I envy, I envy him
I envy him
I envy him

You looked at my heart, then walked away and left it behind
You went on your way leaving me here out of my mind

I... don't want to know what I know
I... I want you more than you know

I envy the sun, you catch the rays
Envy the love that you embrace
Envy the one I can't replace, oh I envy
Envy the hands touching your face
Envy the arms around your waist
Envy the man taking my place, oh I envy, I envy him
I envy him
I envy him
