

Banners

Alec Chambers

We started as friends it was working
Feelings came in you got nervous
You always say that your sorry
You don't have to say that your sorry
I know that the time isn't perfect
But these feelings feel like they're worth it
You wanna tell him your sorry
And all of a sudden you don't

Why hesitate
One foot on the breaks
I know that you know
This is real

I see you like a banner
I'm distracted nothing matters
I get lonely it's a pattern
I can't look away
I see you like a banner
I'm reminded
And I'm shattered
It builds slowly
It's a pattern
I can't look away from you

Doing my best I'm distracted
But I'm drawn to you like a magnet
You never say that it's over
It feels like we're just getting closer
You're a light flashing bright in my window
And I always think that's a signal
I know that you won't give up right now
It's hard to admit that you won't

I see you like a banner
I'm distracted nothing matters
I get lonely it's a pattern
I can't look away
I see you like a banner
I'm reminded
And I'm shattered
It builds slowly
It's a pattern
I can't look away from you

Why hesitate
One foot on the breaks
I know that you know
This is real

I see you like a banner
I'm distracted nothing matters
I get lonely it's a pattern
I can't look away
I see you like a banner
I'm reminded
And I'm shattered

It builds slowly
It's a pattern
I can't look away from you