

Never Stood A Chance

Alejandro Escovedo

If you saw the way she walked away, you would know.
If you heard my name fall from her lips, you would know.
I never stood a chance. then you would know
I never stood a chance.

Sing me to sleep like an angel.
A sword, a kiss and a blue guitar.

I watched the sun kiss her morning face like a glow.
If you watch her glide like a mystery, you wouldl know
I never stood a chance, then you would know
I never stood a chance.

Sing me to sleep like an angel.
A sword, a kiss and a blue guitar.
The world's a big and crazy lover.
So let's just dance here where we are.

Something inside you
Shows me who you are.
The world is a joke, love.
Laugh for the sad ones, my shining star.

I never stood a chance
I never stood a chance
I never stood a chance, then you would know
I never stood a chance

Sing me to sleep like an angel.
A sword, a kiss and a blue guitar.
The world's a big and crazy lover.
So let's just dance here where we are.
Where we are.
