Alela Diane

Rise fall
Rise fall
In out
In out
Night descends
Clouds move
Day breaks
Clear blue
The sun heads south
When summer has past
The light returns
When the flocks come back
To know a face
You've never seen
A remnant, an uncertainty

Rise fall
Rise fall
In out
In out
Do you fumble around
Never feel at home
Or did you know from a young age
That you'd been here before?

Rise fall
Rise fall
In out
In out

The sun heads south
When summer has passed
The light returns
When the flocks come back
To know a face you've never seen
A remnant, an uncertainty
To know a place
You've never been
The strangeness of the Mystery
The endless vastness
Just beyond
And how we can not help but
Breathe
