

Feels Right

Alessia Cara

I've been escaping conversation
It's been known to ruin a good thing
What could conversation ever tell me that
The way you look at me couldn't?

We'll never know where this could go until we take it somewhere

Don't wanna think about it, we could run it into the ground or the fi nish line

Mmm

I'd rather dance around it, listening to the sound of you echoing in my mind

Mmm

Tried to care where we'd end up

For reasons I don't remember

It's none of my business if you're vicious or the love of my life

Let's just keep it going while it still feels right

Mmm

While it still feels right

I get overwhelmed, over-emotional

So let's not over-define it

Got a list of all things unavoidable

It's you and taxes and dying

We'll never know where this could go until we take it somewhere

Don't wanna think about it, we could run it into the ground or the fi nish line

Mmm

I'd rather dance around it, listening to the sound of you echoing in
my mind

Mmm

Tried to care where we'd end up

For reasons I don't remember

It's none of my business if you're vicious or the love of my life

Let's just keep it going while it still feels right

Mmm

While it still feels right

While it still feels

While it still feels right

While it still feels

While it still feels right

Right, right, right, right

Right

While it still feels

While it still feels right

Yeah

While it still feels

Let's just keep it going while it still feels right

Mmm

While it still feels right
