

White Roses

Alex Aiono

I wouldn't mind if you came through tonight
I wouldn't mind if we both forgot you cheated
Both forgot you lied

I wouldn't be opposed if we played pretend so I don't have to s moke you away again
Cause it's ju- you know what?
Never mind

White roses never meant the same
White roses never meant the same
They used to mean "How'd you remember?"
Now it's just "You're the sweetest, thanks"

I don't wanna be a friend and hang
I don't wanna catch up in a week
How could you say you don't wanna lose me
After you drag me through the streets?

Every time my mind's getting over you
My heart doesn't follow suit
And now my body's a civil war
But no one really knows who they're fighting for

And every time my memory gets rid of you
My friends post a pic of you
And I end up in a winter storm
Trying not to hit you up like

I wouldn't mind if you came through tonight
I wouldn't mind if we both forgot you cheated
And both forgot you lied

I wouldn't be opposed if we played pretend like you didn't twis t my head
Over and over a- you know what?
Never mind

White roses never meant the same
White roses never meant the same
White roses never meant the same
Meant the same
