

I never hurt nobody
Not in any physical way
And when I do
They will have wanted it that way
But I know that there's just one thing
You never do
That's fuck with my family

Who pulled the curtains?
Who broke the screen?
Who told my brother that his kids are gonna die from this vacci ne?
Who told my mother that she's never gonna find no love, nobody?
Who told my father that he doesn't have to pay for counselling?

I don't see a pattern
It just won't make sense
You never know on which side you'll fall when you're sitting on the fence
But my God
If you are listening
Give me a sign and let me know what to believe in
Or I just might post something

Who pulled the curtains?
Who broke the screen?
Who told my brother that his kids are gonna die from this vacci ne?
Who told my mother that she's never gonna find no love, nobody?
Who told my father that he doesn't have to pay for counselling?

Who pulled the curtains?
Who broke the screen?
Who told my sister that she's never gonna be no beauty queen?
Who told my mother that she's never gonna find no love, nobody?
Who told my father that he doesn't have to pay for counselling?
