

Grieving

Alex Day

There's no tomorrow now
I think we've run our course
You don't know me anymore
I thought you understood
But now I'm not so sure
You don't know me anymore

And I am grieving what is gone, and
What will never come to be
And all the times I got it wrong

And though it hurts, I have to mourn

What we have lost
I don't know you anymore

And I am grieving what is gone, and
What will never come to be
And all the times I got it wrong

I am accepting now, that we have run our course
You don't know me anymore
