

Over

Alex Day

Turn down the lights a little
There's nothing left to see here
It's only me, it's only you
Move to the left a little
So I can hear your heartbeat
And lay until the day is new

I'm not think about getting over you now
Or moving on
Don't remind me of how in the morning our life
Will be done

I never wanted you only in photographs
Fading as we grow older
I never thought when you first saw me in the bar
You would just walk on over
Don't you dare say that I'll be okay
The next time I cry won't be on your shoulder
I never wanted you only in photographs
Does it have to be over?

I'm not thinking about getting over you now
I'm moving on
Don't remind me of how in the morning our life
Will be done

You caught your breath a little
If this will be the last time
Let's make the most of what we were
I heard you sigh a little
I thought you changed your damn mind
But then you went back home to her

I'm not thinking about getting over you now
I'm moving on
Don't remind me of how in the morning our life
Will be done

'Cause I never wanted you only in photographs
Fading as we grow older
I never thought when you first saw me in the bar
You would just walk on over
Don't you dare say that I'll be okay
'Cause the next time I cry won't be on your shoulder
I never wanted you only in photographs
Does it have to be over?

I never wanted you only in photographs
Fading as we grow older
I never thought when you first saw me in the bar
You would just walk on over
Don't you dare say that I'll be okay
'Cause the next time I cry won't be on your shoulder
I never wanted you only in photographs
Does it have to be over?
