

Runaways

Alex Day

Ever since I learned to walk, I've been trying not to run
But it's only getting harder and harder
And the world is in my way, but it won't always be the same
Now my voice is getting louder and louder
I never thought that I would meet, another wanderer like me
Another person who looks up at the stars
I never thought that I would need, someone else to set me free
But when I look at you I see who we are

So run, run, run, run away with me, run away
And we'll be runaways together
Run, run, run, far as the eye can see
Pick a place and I will follow you, wherever
Long nights or high seas
Or burning burning sun
Dark skies or lightning
It'll never be enough
So let's run, run, run, run away with me
Say that we can be runaways together

There was a time I had my life laid out before me
I was fine, but the road was getting longer and longer
Now I listen to the call, and I am not afraid to face it all
Because I know it makes me stronger and stronger
I know it's not the safest path, and we dunno how long it lasts
But I know you got that need to escape
And if you come along with me, the one thing I can guarantee
Is that we'll never have a day be the same

So run, run, run, run away with me, run away
And we'll be runaways together
Run, run, run, far as the eye can see
Pick a place and I will follow you, wherever
Long nights or high seas
Or burning burning sun
Dark skies or lightning
It'll never be enough
So let's run, run, run, run away with me
Say that we can be, be runaways together

So run, run, run, run away with me, run away
And we'll be runaways together
Run, run, run, far as the eye can see
Pick a place and I will follow you, wherever
Long nights or high seas
Or burning burning sun
Dark skies or lightning
It'll never be enough

So let's run, run, run, run away with me
Say that we can be, be runaways together
