

Be Still and Know

Alex G

I'll be there when the light's out
When you find out there ain't nothing to hold no more
I'll be there when it all seems lost
Cause I've been there when it's lonely
When the only thing I wanted was to feel sane
You were holding me up that day

And I promise you I'll be there too

When your world stops turning
And it won't stop hurting
Say the word and I'll carry you honey

You were there when I lost it
Wasn't talking waited for you to walk away
Tripping over your words you prayed
They're always saying to trust it
Always something
But all I have of it is your face
Living breathing and perfect grace

And I promise I will give my best to you

When your world stops turning
And it won't stop hurting
Say the word and I'll carry you honey

And when your prayers aren't working
And you can't be certain
Be still and know that I'll come running

When your world stops turning
And it won't stop hurting
Say the word and I'll carry you honey

And when your prayers aren't working
And you can't be certain
Be still and know that I'll come running
