

Right Your Wrongs

Alex G

I found out 'cause a friend of a friend said "me too"
She said nothing's changed, even worse than the way it was
You said stay but I couldn't see my face in here
So I ran away right before you could sink your claws

Stay, stay, stay, but we paid, paid for it
No shame, shame, shame, when you took what I had left
And you write your songs
But do you right your wrongs?
I haven't heard from you
And you watched me go
Said I was leaving home
But home wouldn't make me choose
Between me and you

Years gone by and we found a way to smile but it hurt
And your one track mouth kicking dollars every time while we se rved

Stay, stay, stay, but we paid, paid for it
No shame, shame, shame, when you took what I had left
Oh fame, fame, fame, are you sure you wanted it?

Oh you write your songs
But do you right your wrongs?
I haven't heard from you
And you watched me go
Said I was leaving home
But home wouldn't make me choose
Between me and you

Stay, stay, stay, but we paid, paid for it
Now our names, names, names, will be ones you can't forget

Do you right your wrongs?
No, I don't think you do
Oh, 'cause you watched me go
Said I was leaving home
But home wouldn't make me choose
Between me and you

Home wouldn't make me choose
Between me and you
