

Together Again

Alex G

We're sitting here in pieces
I'm picking you apart
We might know each other, baby
But I wanna know your heart

It's been a while since I'd seen you darlin'
But you're the kind I can't forget
And you're the kind who leaves me wondering if You're the kind that's scared of this

So let me know where you are
From what I see I can't quite figure you out

Would you ever fall? Would you ever feel it
The way it feels to love somebody?
Would you ever call? Would you ever leave me
To put you back together again

I see you are fixing
Your past has trapped you up
So give me your pieces darlin'
And I swear I'll show you in love

But let me know, where you are
From what I see I can't quite figure you out

Will you ever fall? Will you ever feel it
The way it feels to love somebody?
Will you ever call? Will you ever need me
To put you back together again
Whoa, together again
Oh, together again

Who's to be told? I see you beating
You'll be told in the blink of an eye
So please just go, and don't you feel it
See what happens if you give it a try

We're sitting here in pieces
I'm picking you apart
We might know each other, baby
But, I think I know your heart

Will you ever fall? Will you ever feel it
The way it feels to love somebody?
Will you ever call? Will you ever need me
Just to put you back together again
Together again
Together again
Together again
