

You Are One

Alex G

Did you find a place in this town
Always lookin' over your shoulder
For someone to let you down

Running for what you never had
Running from the ghosts of your present
Stuck in a new trap

But the tide is turnin' turnin' turnin' now
And your chance is coming coming coming round

Don't go searching
You already got
Something stirring
Plenty more where that came from
You keep praying
For anyone
To mend your broken
But you've already found someone
Darlin' there's a home for you
Cuz you are one

Have you heard the truth about you
I know everybody's been lying
And you've been feeling used

There's a reckoning to be had
When you realize you've been held down
And it finally makes you mad

But the tide is turnin' turnin' turnin' now
And your chance is coming coming coming round

Don't go searching
You already got
Something stirring
Plenty more where that came from
You keep praying
For anyone
To mend your broken
But you've already found someone
Darlin' there's a home for you
Cuz you are one

Don't be afraid of what's underneath
All that trying hard to be something

Don't go searching
You already got
Something stirring
Plenty more where that came from
You keep praying
For anyone
To mend your broken
But you've already found someone
Darlin' there's a home for you
Cuz you are one
