

Self Portrait

Alex Goot

Hey, hello
I am another wasted mind and soul
I am another waste of thought in space and time
But on the brighter side my problems seem to rhyme

I'll say what I mean
This lonely life of I and me is all I need
Some things things will come and go
I'll take this ride
This lonely life of me and I
that's just fine
Some things just come and go
Some things just come and go

As I take a look at my life right now
I'm surprised to find I've got no friends to let me down
You could read it on my face just an hour ago
It was just another missed chance here to get up and go
I let myself down again (down again)

I'll say what I mean
This lonely life of I and me is all I need
Some things things will come and go
I'll take this ride
This lonely life of me and I
That's just fine
Some things just come and go
(Some things just come and go)
Some things just come and go
(Some things just come and go)

They come and go...

I remember every choice I've made and I don't regret them
I remember every day I waste
and I don't regret them

I'll say what I mean
this lonely life of I and me is all I need
Some things things will come and go
I'll take this ride
This lonely life of me and I
That's just fine
Some things just come and go
Some things just come and go
