

Your Message

Alex Goot

There's something beautiful in my eyes stormy skies
Don't you leave before your time is up
I can't let you leave me

What we've been through me and you
You'll be fine just say its true
I hate to see you panic helplessly

'Cause I received your message for me
It was written on your face
You said "live your life and do what's right for you" (for you)
And I can not forget your smiling face
'Cause I think I found hope in your embrace

It seems when I lose touch with my life
I can find peace and comfort knowing I
Somehow see success with your advice

Even though you could not speak
Words in a language known to me
You spoke your deepest thoughts effectively

'Cause I received your message for me
It was written on your face
You said "live your life and do what's right for you" (for you)
And I can not forget your smiling face
'Cause I think I found hope in your embrace

You'll always be there for me
You exist in my heart
My mind reminds me that it's been too long
Too long since you've come around
I miss you every day
But I can't let my thoughts be bringing me down (again)

'Cause I received your message for me
It was written on your face
You said "live your life and do what's right for you" (for you)
And I can not forget your smiling face
'Cause I think I found hope in your embrace
