Alex Isley

We were so sure of our future
The present makes me cry
So I use the past as a lullaby
And my love go vaster than the distance
While our pain memory
Looks like the only possibility

I had you, I had it all
Suddenly, I'm not that sure
Of what I always wanted
It's like you forgot it all
Almost like you never saw my affection
I head in your direction, but
Still fall down away
Falling down away
With each passing day
Falling down away

I was looking for the one that loved me
When I saw your face
Knowing that I looked in the right place
And now, out of nowhere you pushed me away
You said you couldn't stay
When I just knew you felt the same

Tell me is this really true?
You were looking out for you?
Instead of looking out for me?
Everything we ever had disappeared
And now I'm missing your affection
I had in your direction

But still fall down away
Falling down away
With each passing day
Falling down away
Falling down away
With each passing day, baby
Falling down away

I'm falling, down away yeah
I'm falling, time won't wait
You know it's up to you
To catch and love
I wish I was the one to chose
I wish I was the one to chose
Falling down away from your HEART
I wish I was that you should dream
Falling down away
With each passing DAY
Falling down away, yea-heay
Falling down away, babe
Falling down away
I had in your direction
I had you, I had it all
I had you, I had it all

I had you, I had it all
I had you, I had it all
Oh oo-oh
Falling down AWAY, falling down away, baby
Falling down away
I had in your direction
