

We'll Always Have Paris

Alex Isley

I think I changed my mind for the last time
No more chances, no more answers
Almost came cross the line 3 or 4 times
I can't go there, a broken heart gets nowhere

We'll always have Paris, we'll share it
But that's far as it goes, that's all that I know
Nothing else to call it, I'm not for it
That's far as it goes, that's all that I know

One thing I can define
You gave me love so blind
I won't forget it, I know where we were heading (yeaaa)
I like us kissing by the Eiffel
I don't like walking with my eyes closed
So I had to break this cycle
Before all the lights go

We'll always have Paris, we'll share it
But that's far as it goes, that's all that I know
Nothing else to call it, I'm not for it
That's far as it goes, that's all that I know

This is where I leave you
Knowing I don't want to
But that's as far as it goes
That's all that I know
Thank you for the memories
I'm not feeling risky
That's as far as it goes
That's all that I know

This is as far as it goes
This is the part where I go
I can't get hurt no more, no more

This is as far as it goes
This is the part where I go
I can't get hurt no more, no more
