

Flesh And Bone

Alex Mattson

I love, I judge, I speak without thinking
I live, I learn, I trust without blinking
I try so hard not to show my heart,
Didn't want to disappoint you
We had come so far, show me who you are
I won't hold it against you

We were born to make mistakes,
And the past came in the way
Only human anyway,
We the same under our clothes
We're only flesh and bone, flesh and bone
We're only flesh and bone

I live, I cry, I changed without reason
I bleed, and I heal, choices give us meaning
I try so hard, not to show my heart
Didn't want to disappoint you
We had come so far, show me who you are
I won't hold it against you

We were born to make mistakes,
And the past get in the way
We're only human anyway,
We're the same under our clothes
We're only flesh and bone,
Flesh and bone, flesh and bone
Flesh and bone

We were born to make mistakes
But the past get it the way
We're only human anyway,
We're the same under our clothes
We're only flesh and bone
Flesh and bone
