

Ashes

Alex Vargas

A regret, a goodbye
A good reason to pull out the knife
Tell me when the love runs out
Tell me when the love runs out
I know that I might
Twist your gut till it's upside down
But I don't wanna know your doubts
Just tell me when the love runs out

Every time the truth comes back around
The shadow of your fear brings your head down
But I don't wanna know your doubts
Just tell me when the love runs out
I know that the world stays spinning out
But you won't get about with your head down
So tell me has the love run out?
Just tell me when the love runs out

Put it out, kill the fire
'Cause it's all been lost on the pyre
And after we collide again
Ashes of the last remains

Can we rise, can we soar
Or is there no love anymore
I don't wanna know your doubts
Just tell me when the love runs out

Every time the truth comes back around
The shadow of your fear brings your head down
But I don't wanna know your doubts
Just tell me when the love runs out
I know that the world stays spinning out
But you won't get about with your head down
So tell me has the love run out?
Just tell me when the love runs out
