Warnings

Alex Vargas

I'm moving sideways, and falling back
The moment slips now as we all track
Tired words on tired lips
'Till we disperse, forget and forgive

We can buy the night out
I'm stuck in your head
Thoughts that echo slowly
Or shouldn't be said
Warnings from a distance
They take too long
And now it's all too clear
What damage is done

Lost in this broken sin
Blessing out weary feet
We don't know
But if we take it slow

Maybe in time
If we just play it right
We'll be getting closer
We'll be getting closer
Maybe this time
If we don't lose our minds
Keep on coming closer
Keep on coming closer

I'm moving sideways, and falling back
The moment slips now as we all track
Tired words on tired lips
'Till we disperse, forget and forgive

Falling for the night out
And move ahead
The thought of disappearing
Is quietly said
Warnings from a distance
We're gonna address
Nothing but the whispers
From all these talking heads

Maybe in time
If we just play it right
We'll be getting closer
We'll be getting closer
Maybe this time
If we don't lose our minds
Keep on coming closer
Keep on coming closer

I'm moving sideways, and falling back
'Till we disperse, forget and forgive

We intertwine as the logic fails

Two twisted minds, with skin so pale

'Till we disperse, forgive and forget
Forgive and forget
Forgive and forget

Maybe in time
We'll be getting closer
(Forgive and forget)
Maybe this time
(Forgive and forget)
