

I took someone else's place
But I can also be erased
First you tell me I'm the one
Then hand me someone else's gun
Chocked up back and barely breathing
Paranoia is killing me
How long have I really got
'Till my best is not enough

Feel like someone's watching me
Through the tiny cracks of the floor
I can hear the scratching
And I swear that there's a wolf in my door

I've been sleeping with both my eyes open
This is not my time, not my ill omen
I know I'm not safe if I let you in
I'll be sleeping with both my eyes open

Follow the death trap to your place
Something tells me I'm not safe
Forgot what a fucking joke
Liberating her fucking clone
I think often revenge define
When I'm distant paranoid
I don't know how long I've got
'Till my best is not enough

I've been sleeping with both my eyes open
This is not my time, not my ill omen
I know I'm not safe if I let you in
I'll be sleeping with both my eyes open
