

Bloodline

Alex Warren

Take that pain, pass it down like bottles on the wall
Mamma says her dad's to blame but that's his daddy's fault
Oooooooh
There's no-one left to call

You stay up counting down the days til you make your escape
But you're afraid you can't outrun what's running through your veins
Oooooooh
You're carrying the weight

In the dead of night
On that broken road
I won't let you walk alone

Oh my brother
You don't have to follow in your bloodline
Oh we got each other
And if you got tomorrow then you still got time
To break the chain that left you scarred
From where you came isn't who you are
Oh my brother
You don't have to follow in your bloodline

Oh I won't pretend that I know half the hell you've seen
But that don't mean it's something that you're destined to repeat
Oooooooh
You're stronger than you think

You know it has to end but you don't know where to start
You can pack your bags and I'll meet you where you are Oooooooh
I'll be waiting in the car

In the dead of night
On that broken road
I won't let you walk alone

Oh my brother
You don't have to follow in your bloodline
Oh we got each other
And if you got tomorrow then you still got time
To break the chain that left you scarred
From where you came isn't who you are
Oh my brother
You don't have to follow in your bloodline

That storm keeps on raging
But don't you forget
God's not done with you yet
When it feels like you're losing
The war in your head
Just know this isn't the end

Oh my brother
You don't have to follow in your bloodline (In your bloodline)
Oh we got each other
And if you got tomorrow then you still got time (You still got time)

To break the chain that left you scarred
From where you came isn't who you are
Oh my brother
You don't have to follow in your bloodline
