

Backwards

Alexa Cappelli

I'm moving on and you're moving backwards
You keep, dragging us on, reliving chapters
Oh, the scars will never heal
If you keep opening the wounds
I'm far from how you feel
For once I'm not confused, ah, ah
I'm moving on and you're moving backwards
You're moving backwards

You've got sensitive skin
You keep letting me in
When you know you shouldn't
Said you wanna be friends
Making me second guess
When you said you wouldn't

I know you know I know you're not fine
'Cause you told me you were a million times
Twisting my words and blurring the lines again (But)

I'm moving on and you're moving backwards
You keep, dragging us on, reliving chapters (Reliving chapters)
Oh, the scars will never heal
If you keep opening the wounds
I'm far from how you feel
For once I'm not confused, ah
I'm moving on and you're moving backwards
You're moving backwards, backwards, backwards
I'm moving on and you're moving backwards

I've told you over and over I'm like a broken record
No, I can't get it in your head that I
I, I took that picture of us and got it off the dresser
I'm doing better than I have in a while

You said you're fine, I know you're lyin'
It don't look like you're even trying
I swear, it's not that hard see
Oh, I promise you're alright without me
No, oh

I'm moving on and you're moving backwards (You're moving backwards)
You keep, dragging us on, reliving chapters (Reliving chapters)
The scars will never heal (Will never heal)
If you keep opening the wounds
I'm far from how you feel
For once I'm not confused, ah
I'm moving on and you're moving backwards (You're moving backwards)
You're moving backwards, backwards, backwards
I'm moving on and you're moving backwards, backwards, backwards
I'm moving on and you're moving backwards
