

American Boy

Alexander 23

Flyin' for the weekend
Come on, superstar, dive in the deep end
Let me show you California when it's cold, oh
I know you ain't used to
So much sugar cooked into your Thai food
You could tell me how your mom makes it at home

I'll, I'll

I'll be your American boy
Blue jeans and a faded T-shirt, baby
Pick me up and down like a toy
Wear me like a cross when you need some saving
I'll put my socks and upon my head, and
Tell you that your accent makes you sound intelligent
Oh, I'll be your American boy
I'll be your American boy
I'll be your American boy
I'll be your American boy

American boy
American boy

And babe, when you're leavin'
I'll take you to LAX and beg you to extend
Your vacation for just one or two more days
But I know that (Know that), you'll be back (You'll be back)
'Cause, when you say, "Goodbye", you say it with a little laugh
But you're gonna miss your American boy and his American ways

Oh, I'll

I'll be your American boy
Blue jeans and a faded T-shirt, baby
Pick me up and down like a toy
Wear me like a cross when you need some saving
I'll put my socks and upon my head, and
Tell you that your accent makes you sound intelligent
Oh, I'll be your American boy
I'll be your American boy
I'll be your American boy
I'll be your American boy

American boy
American boy

(American boy) I'll be your American boy
I'll be your American boy
(American boy) I'll be your American boy
I'll be your American boy

I'll be your American boy
Blue jeans and a faded T-shirt, baby
Made right up in North Illinois
Right across the pond when it's what you're craving
