

I can't remember was it you or me
Who said that maybe we should get some coffee
Now you've been sleeping over for a week
I can't believe you like your cereal soggy

You wear my favorite shirt to go to bed
You let me wear your most expensive necklace
You send me pictures on the Internet
Like have you seen this little cat with its face in a

Slice of bread
I pretend that I've never seen that one
I guess I'm just tryna understand where this will

Go!
'Cause we've both been here before
And baby I don't know what to think
Should we call it quits before we go from friends to enemies?

Oh!
'Cause I'm seeing her in you
And I know you're seeing him in me
So if you don't hate me now I know you will eventually

You say your ex was a real piece of shit
He never listened and didn't get you
Now we finish each other's sentences
Like do you wanna order in and watch a movie

I do so bad
But I can't 'cause as much as I like
Waking up at my place
To your perfect little face
I'm still scared to death of where this all will

Go!
'Cause we've both been here before
And baby I don't know what to think
Should we call it quits before we go from friends to enemies?

Oh!
'Cause I'm seeing her in you
And I know you're seeing him in me
So if you don't hate me now I know you will eventually

I don't know if we're meant for one another
Or if we cosplaying each other's exes
I don't care come stay the night
In the morning we can figure it out

If we're meant for one another
Or if we cosplaying each other's exes
I don't care come stay the night
In the morning we can figure it out

In the morning we can figure it out

I think this is really dark and we just don't know it yet
