

Someone Else

Alexander Oscar

Pick me up, parking lot
It's been two weeks and you don't kiss me
Tired eyes, forcing smiles
You say you're fine but I know that line

Do you ever think of us? (Oh-oh)
Tell me, do you ever think of us? (Oh-oh)

Do you know how many times I tried to push aside the fact that you're with someone else?
I find it hard to be myself, I know you think of someone else
'Cause every time we go to bed you throw a t-shirt on and then you turn the other way
And it fucking hurts like hell when I know you want someone else

I'm falling down, I'm dying now
Without your touch, I need your love
Talking slow, put us on hold
We fixed us twice, so now I guess it's time

Did you ever think of us? Oh-whoa
When you slowly took his clothes off, mmm

Do you know how many times I tried to push aside the fact that you're
with someone else?
I find it hard to be myself, I know you think of someone else
'Cause every time we go to bed you throw a t-
shirt on and then you turn the other way
And it fucking hurts like hell when I know you want someone else

It fucking hurts like hell
I know you want someone else
Ah, I guess I'm too blind
'Cause I moved away
I put you in pain
And it's driving me insane
I know I shouldn't have taken you for granted
And I should've wanted the tree that we planted
I bought a ticket straight to hell
The day I made you look for someone else

But did you ever think of us? Oh-whoa
When you slowly took his clothes off, mm

Do you know how many times I tried to push aside the fact that you're
with someone else?
I find it hard to be myself, I know you think of someone else
'Cause every time we go to bed you throw a t-
shirt on and then you turn the other way
And it fucking hurts like hell when I know you want someone else

It fucking hurts like hell

I know you want someone else
It fucking hurts like hell
I know you want someone else
