

Lucky One

Alexander Rybak

Hey little bird what did you do last night?
Where the fireworks were lightning up the sky
Up in the tree with a smile on your face, telling jokes about the human race

Hung over in my hammock on New Year's Day waiting for a sign in the clouds someday But only gray skies could prove me wrong untill you came along and you sang me the song

Bird on the wire you're the lucky one
You can fly away to the morning sun
While me and myself are stuck right here
and most likely I'm gonna get nowhere

Well I guess you don't know why you're the lucky one See from above and flying must be fun
God gave you a purpose in life
I got one too, never got it right

Bird on the wire, little friend of mine gonna fly away to the morning light I will hope I meen sitting here next year waiting for the day, I'm gonna get somewhere

Bird on the wire you're the lucky one
You can fly away to the morning sun
While me and myself are stuck right here
and most likely I'm gonna get nowhere

Bird on the wire you're the lucky one
You can fly away to the morning sun
While me and myself are stuck right here
and most likely I'm gonna get nowhere
and most likely I'm gonna get nowhere
