

Better Than Goodbye

Alexandra Kay

Can I ask you a favor
I know that's not what you wanna hear
Can we save it for later
Because I know why you called me here

Cause we both know that this road is coming to an end
But for a moment just say something to make me feel whole again

Tell me that I blow your mind
That you fall in love all over when you look into my eyes
That I'm everything you've been trying to find
Cause everything is gonna be alright sounds better than goodbye

Go on and let me down easy now
But you know I'll just hang on Cause everything that you're talking about
It's nothing that I want

We both know that I won't leave without a fight
So for a moment wrap me in your arms and tell me one more lie

Tell me that I blow your mind
That you fall in love all over when you look into my eyes
That I'm everything you've been trying to find
Cause everything is gonna be alright sounds better than goodbye

You won't finish what you started
Just know this ain't what I wanted
To try and stop these tears
Tell me what I want to hear

Tell me that I blow your mind
That you fall in love all over when you look into my eyes
That I'm everything you've been trying to find
Cause everything is gonna be alright sounds better than goodbye
