

More Than You

Alexandra Kay

It's starting to make its way around
That rumor mill is spinning round
That I'm leaving town
Can't slow it down

You've got your story I've got mine
They'll only get to hear your side
But that's alright
Yeah I'll be fine

So many things I left unsaid and wish I could do
If you could help me with a few

Wrap your arms around your mama
Tell her that this one's from me
Stop by that bar on the corner
Buy our friends a round of drinks

I'm not gonna run your name down
I won't beg for you to stay
If you ever really loved me
Could you give me one last thing

Tell your sister I'll miss our talks
I'll leave my key in the mailbox
Knowin that I did all that I could do
But I'm still losing more than you

Got missed calls from 618
Just checking in, girl you ok?
I saw him at the bar
Looks like he's moving on

And I'd be lying through my teeth
If I said it didn't break me
Every time
You twist the knife

You don't owe me anything boy and I don't owe you
But if there's one thing you can do
It's...

Wrap your arms around your mama
Tell her that this one's from me
Stop by that bar on the corner
Buy our friends a round of drinks

I'm not gonna run your name down
I won't beg for you to stay
If you ever really loved me
Could you give me one last thing

Sign my name on the birthday cards
I'll keep the dog, take the car
I know I did all that I could do
But I'm still losing-

More than

Ten years worth of memories
The house we built and every dream
We never could see through

I know you're losing so much too, so...

I'll wrap my arms around my mama
Tell her that this one's from you
See Christmas lights in New York City
Like we always said we'd do

I'm not gonna run your name down
I won't beg for you to stay
But if you ever really loved me
Could you give me one last thing

Chase your dreams, open every door
I hope you find what you're looking for
I know I did all that I could do, but the truth
Is I'm still losing more than you
More than you
