

The Phantom

Alexandra Savior

Fell in love as a lone disciple
His altar at the root of my fate
Fell in love on a lonely night
Could predict every word he'd never convey

What did you say?
A promise broke, an empty room
How could you do this to me?
I fell in love alone

All alone at his golden temple
A dusting of crumb falls at his feet
From the time when my greedy mantle
I've come here to take my crackerjack tree

What did you say?
A promise broke, an empty room
How could you do this to me?
I fell in love alone

I feel a phantom pain
I feel a phantom break

What did you say?
A promise broke, an empty room
How could you do this to me?
I fell in love alone
