

Acid Rain

Alexis Jordan

It ain't hard to tell, I excel and prevail
Young niggas rising hell but talk well
Make sales, I managed to re-fake jail
Blast on the road to success was
But here we are, breathing, fuck demons
Never get caught sleeping, I'd rather be caught dreaming
Now me and my niggas be flying across seas
Laughing at the days we used to rack tall T's
Now we rock shows up in London, wondering
How they even heard of me
Never did occur to me if I get to the top one day
Lotta niggas gonna be sending shots my way
Could've been the worst that I shot then say
Across the bear hoes you never got complain
One day, though, some day is on
One day you're here, next day you're gone

Wake up with the fear of living for another day Tell myself that it's nothing that I can't take Your strength is the sickness I can't hide
I try to be invisible to him
Make no noise, tip toe through everything
Hell's fury feeds the fear inside

It's like acid rain in a hurricane
Might hear your call to bring you cover
It's a crown of thorns leaving me torn
Might hear your call to bring you cover

I made choices that I cannot live with
I regret not choosing over him
I'm suffocating in this life
Don't know if I can survive this weather
And you turn up with your arms and umbrella
I send a farewell tonight

It's like acid rain in a hurricane
Might hear your call to bring you cover
It's a crown of thorns leaving me torn
Might hear your call to bring you cover

My life could be a movie let me write the script
It would be something truly never read like a crypt with clothes full of hoes like a pimp
Far from a flower but I rose like a blimp
Now who we gonna cast for the roles in this flick?
Only bad hoes getting shows for the tricks
Who gonna play the lead, though? Will Smith? Maybe
Second thought, fuck it, ain't nobody gonna play me
Yo, some day is on, one day you're here, next day you're gone
One day you're here, next day you're gone

I know the risk has come, I know I can run into your arms
I know you'll come to save me from harm
It's like acid rain in a hurricane
Might hear your call to bring you cover
It's a crown of thorns leaving me torn

Might hear your call to bring you cover
