

Gone

Alexis Jordan

Fighting getting less interesting
Know that these days it just sounds a bit boring
Know that still gone but still goddamn
Know that my feelings, you can't visit them

If they come I got my mind made up
Tell me be more cautiously blind

I don't need your love, don't need that kind of love
I don't need your love, don't need that kind of love
I'm already gone, I'm already gone
Boy, you keep knocking, knocking
Nobody come
I'm already gone, I'm already gone
Ain't no more waiting, waiting, I had to move on
I'm already gone, I'm already gone
I'm already gone, I'm already gone
Ain't no more waiting, waiting, I had to move

We wasting more time than we spend
That pressure building up within
Now it's too late to make amends
No man to wonder where I've been

So pick your face up off the ground
Boy, don't make a sound
You must be out of your mind if you think I'mma stick around

I don't need your love, don't need that kind of love
I don't need your love, don't need that kind of love
I'm already gone, I'm already gone
Boy, you keep knocking, knocking
Nobody come
I'm already gone, I'm already gone
Ain't no more waiting, waiting, I had to move on
I'm already gone, I'm already gone
I'm already gone, I'm already gone
Ain't no more waiting, waiting, I had to move
