

Kerosene

Alexis Munroe

I've fallen through a flock of doves, you'll never catch me, ye ah

I've lived and died a thousand times, you can't surpass me
But sure you can try, bury my body where no one will find
Somewhere where the shadows hide (Woah)
Drown in a fire, bathe in kerosene

You like the color red, so I let it bleed
All my pages torn, I'm someone that you couldn't read
And it made you so mad, you couldn't understand
I love it when can't when you say you can
It bothered you so much, you couldn't catch my pain
I'm getting sick and tired of going to sleep
And dreaming of your face

I've fallen through a flock of doves, you'll never catch me, ye
ah

But sure you can try, bury my body where no one will find
Somewhere where the shadows hide (Woah)
Drown in a fire, bathe in kerosene
