

World Stops Turning

Alexisonfire

Don't just sit there and wait around
Can't you see that I'm ready now
I never meant to let you down, oh

I want your love so violently
To feel this pleasure that burns in me
Darling if you please
Set me free

'Cause if the world, the world stops turning
Our love will keep on burning

I need to feel your breath again
The way it danced across my skin
And shook my body deep within, oh

After all this time
You're there suspended in my mind
And I'm starving for your love
So set me free tonight

'Cause if the world, the world stops turning
Our love will keep on burning
And if the world, the world stops turning
Our love will keep on burning
And if the world, the world stops turning
Our love will keep on burning
