

Numb

Alextbh

Pull up on me
I'm off the grid if you just pull up on me
You last the night and in the morning you leave
We can have a conversation, if you want it

We're both paper thin
We both need a saviour
I'm hung up on him and you're afraid of the light
We fuck all night and I still can't feel a thing, anything

And then I'll do it again
And then I'll do it again till I'm numb
The ceiling's never the same
I think I'll do it again till I'm numb

You come, you go, you know it's temporary
You've got your issues, I have mine just tell me
We can have a conversation, if you want

We're both paper thin
We both need a saviour
I'm hung up on him and you're afraid of the light
We fuck all night and I still can't feel a thing, anything

And then I'll do it again
And then I'll do it again till I'm numb
The ceiling's never the same
I think I'll do it again till I'm numb

Just want to feel
So watch me fly to the fucking sun
Won't you give me some of that love

(And then I'll do it again)
Till I'm numb
The ceiling's never the same
(I think I'll do it again till I'm numb)

And then I'll do it again
And then I'll do it again till I'm numb
The ceiling's never the same
I think I'll do it again till I'm numb

Let me do this again
Let me do this again
