

Anchor

Alexx Calise

It's too late for me
Got your hooks in so deep

Babe I need to feed,
Your scraps,
My sustenance

Every day with you
Serve some kind of penance

Broken, but we fit
Someone please
Reel me back to reality
Can't see myself all alone
This ain't paradise, but it's like home

Baby, baby
You're my anchor
Wanna go to
The bottom with ya
Sing me, sing me
Your siren's song, love
You may not be worth it
Wanna crash and burn with you

Here we go again
It's the same sick cycle

Give it all away
For nothing in return

Hey, what can I say?
Glutton for punishment

Wish I weren't this way
Will it break me
If I try and break the habit
Can't see myself all alone
Ain't no paradise, but it's like home

Baby, baby
You're my anchor
Wanna go to
The bottom with ya
Sing me, sing me
Your siren's song, love
You may not be worth it
Wanna crash and burn with you

Hopelessly flawed, farthest thing from perfect
But you're filling the void for now
You're all that's wrong, not the one by a long shot, but it beats fixing myself

Baby, baby
You're my anchor
Wanna go to

The bottom with ya
Sing me, sing me
Your siren's song, love
You may not be worth it
Wanna crash and burn with you
