

Crawl

Alexz Johnson

Before, you've been there before
You've opened the door
Oh, you feel like the hurricane's gone, but it's just begun
(Where'd you go?)
You left me holding, I'm not even coping
(Where'd you go, where'd you go?)
Just while I'm hoping, my walls are closing
(Where'd you go? Where'd you go?)

Do you ever wonder why
You need someone to call, when you're lying on that cold floor
Losing it all
Could you ever just agree
To how you treated me
I'm worth more than that cold floor where you wanted me to be.
And with it all
You begin to crawl

Before there was a before
You once gave me more (where'd you go?)
Oh, I'm slowly changing and re-arranging
(Where'd you go, where'd you go?)
(Where'd you go, where'd you go?)
My life's just starting, that's when we parted, yeah

Do you ever wonder why
You need someone to call, when you're lying on that cold floor
Losing it all
Could you ever just agree
To how you treated me
I'm worth more than that cold floor where you wanted me to be.
And with it all
You begin to crawl

Yeah...

(Where'd you go?)
Do you ever wonder why
You need someone to call, when you're lying on that cold floor
Losing it all
Could you ever just agree
To how you treated me
I'm worth more than that cold floor where you wanted me to be.
And with it all, yeah

(You begin to crawl)
Baby, you'll make it
Just understand you're finding your way
Baby, just take it
And maybe you'll be alive some day

You begin to crawl
You begin to crawl
You begin to crawl
You begin to crawl
