

Hurt Me

Alexz Johnson

There's a greater reason
You're feeling so much pain
'Cause, darling, I adore you
And I feel the same

And no one really warns you
How quick your world can change
But let me reassure you
(That you can)

Hurt me
I'll let you tear up the home
Cry on my shoulder
I won't let you go
Don't leave!
What kind of friend would I be?
You can tear up my heart
While I stand here and bleed
Give all of your demons to me
And hurt me

You just need a change of season
There's been too much rain
And you've committed a treason
And you're the queen

And no one really warns you
How quick your world can change
So let me reassure you
(That you can)

Hurt me
I'll let you tear up the home
Cry on my shoulder
I won't let you go
Don't leave!
What kind of friend would I be?
You can tear up my heart
While I stand here and bleed
Give all of your demons to me
Give all of your reasons to me

I'll always hold your hand
And I won't let go
I've got your back
Tell me all your woes
I'll take the tears from your sadness
And turn them into gold

Listen:
Give me all your pain
I'll take it away
Let me take it away

'Cause no one really warns you
How quick your world can change
Let me...

(That you can)
Let me, baby!

Hurt me
I'll let you tear up the home
Cry on my shoulder
I won't let you go
Don't leave!
What kind of friend would I be?
You can tear up my heart
While I stand here and bleed
Give all of your demons to me
Give all of your reasons to me
Give all of your...
...your reasons to me
And hurt me
Just hurt me
